Volume 29

Down two way streets is found the message in the music and the music in the message

Music . . . the incorporation of tones into a composition having structure and continuity . . . Churchland High School . . . an incorporation of "tones" having structure and continuity . . . the message is in the music . . . the music is in the message

Faces at Churchland increased by three hundred to provide harmony for court order

More liberal views seen around Churchland as in the rest of the world

Rhythm, movement, the beat, soul, the blues, classics . . . every drummer hears a different tune . . . all come together to form an environment . . . each one has something to contribute . . . the group benefits as a whole . . . the shy, the vivacious, the black, the white, the restless . . . all hear this music, this expression of the soul . . . of all the arts, only music is a genuine creation which cannot condemn the world, but can only unite the world with its purity . . .

Thomasine takes over SCA Presidency at outset of second semester

Team sports profit by busing

As vast as the skies or the sands of the beaches with endless waves are the numbers of people and types of music . . . each with its own sound . . . and all means of self-expression . . . the individual composes his own song to fit the mood and the occasion . . . therefore, if this song is to be, all must sing . . .

Involvement

Involvement . . . participation in the realm of extra-curricular activities. . . . groups of people joined together with a common interest . . . each group making its own kind of music . . . each person contributing his own share of the melody . . . each melody having its own appeal to some individual . . .

Challenge

Challenge . . . an invitation into competition . . . no longer associated with the individual, the concern is for the entire team . . . each must give his all if the team is to succeed . . . every member is driven by the continual impetus to work, to strive, and, in the end, to win . . . but while one sings of victory, the other must sing of defeat.

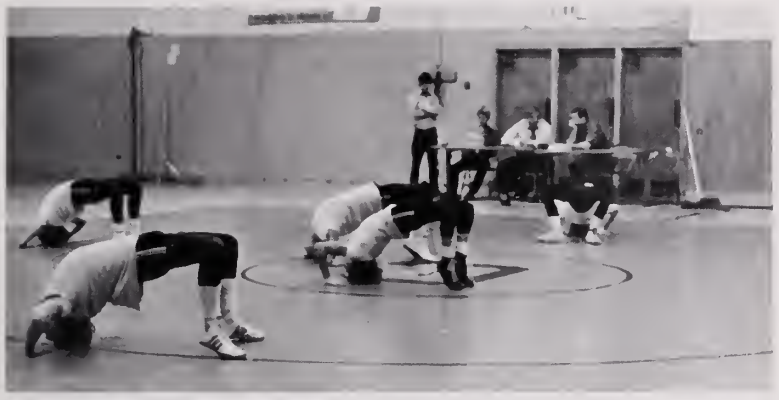
Dimensions



Dimensions . . . the rhythm of school life . . . every person, whether he be teacher, pupil, editor, or conductor, comes to the whole to become an integral part of the masses . . . it is not just the captain or the president who is significant, but instead, it is the realm of all people, for it is they that form the larger view.

Faces

Faces . . . each individual with a different expression . . . each expression as varied as the number of faces . . . for every person has his own special qualities which he can either share with the group or reserve for himself . . . it is the decision of the individual whether he should sing his song or remain silent . . . but it is the conglomeration of these faces which creates one single harmony

Vepco's first commercial atomic power station is now under construction in Surry County, Virginia. In the new Information Center overlooking the site, you will see an excellent slide presentation, fascinating exhibits, and a working model of the reactor. (And from the balcony, you can watch them assemble the real thing.) Open 10 AM to 4 PM Monday through Saturday and 1 PM to 6 PM on Sunday. For tour information call 771-3194 in Richmond.

Arlene Hewitt and Danny Brenner — co-editors, and ViAnn Lynch — business manager.

The 1972 Trucker staff embarked on an almost impossible mission — to change the Trucker from the conservative, timeworn book of years past to a more modern and challenging book. Having received the highest rating of Medalist from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for the 1971 Trucker, we realized that we had perfected that style of book and could do no better. Therefore, we decided to try a new and different approach in presenting the life at Churchland High School. The final product is the 1972 Trucker.

With the assistance of a new sponsor, Miss Mary Rice, the staff of eleven veteran members and ten new members worked from spring 1971 to spring 1972 to produce the 1972 Trucker. Beginning with the initial tasks of collecting ads, selecting a theme, and designing a cover, the staff assumed the responsibilities of meeting four deadlines, and finally assisted in the distribution of the books. Performing these duties, the staff toiled many long afternoons, weekends, and holidays.

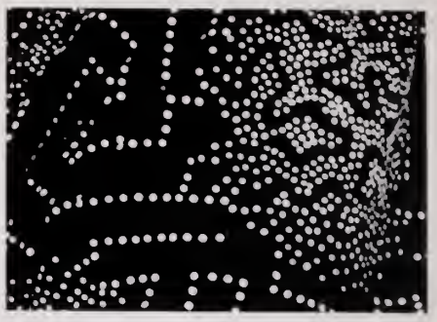
The theme of the 1972 Trucker, dealing with music and the moods, tries to portray a sound and sensual effect along with the visual effect created by the many pictures. The cover, a picture of a rock band printed under 1972 Trucker, emphasizes this theme. Copy and captions were omitted except in the opening and closing sections, thereby creating the feeling that pictures speak more effectively than words. In effect, we have let our pictures tell the story of Churchland High School. Dimensions, the most recent innovation, is an attempt at a type of "photo-essay" depicting life at Churchland. Although unable to have spot-color, due to finances, we have applied special effect techniques to the divider pages. Sectional pages were reapportioned so that more coverage could be given to student life.

We would like to thank the following: WEBB Productions for the cover picture; Delmar Studios for club and class pictures; Mr. Irvin Goodwin for club and student life pictures; Smith and Welton's for senior pictures; Mr. John Perry of Hunter Publishing Company; and all of our advertisers.

Miss Mary Rice — spansar.

Rock bands broaden "scope" of assemblies in school

Music . . . a motivation to many . . . another art which, in truth, does not imitate life . . . but rather expresses it . . . a source of inspiration which gives a broader view . . . in its most crude, unwrought state or its most refined or poetic form, it services a multitude of people and tasks . . .



Music . . . the universal language

The essence of music . . . it has universal significance to all peoples, each within his own culture . . . it serves as a means of intercommunication among all races and classes of people in the world . . . men can become greater humanitarians . . . we change and rearrange the world simply because we believe in justice and freedom . . . music . . . open up the door.
